CARL SCHURZ

A CHAPTER OF HIS EARLY HISTORY—HIS CRIMINAL [illegible] IN GERMANY IN 1848 AND 1849

[Cincinnati Commercial]

WASHINGTON, April [illegible] 1874 —Unfortunate as was the Revolution of 1848 in Germany yet it was not one of those ill winds which blow nobody good On the contrary that failure was the great occasion which wafted to the United States one who adopted as a citizen now holds a place among the foremost of our statesmen orators and scholars It was the one happy result of that ill starred bloody struggle that it gave Carl Schurz to America

Immediately the overthrow of the Orleans dynasty in France the Republicans in Germany sought to found a national constitution But despotism was too well intrenched The endeavor failed and the Republican leaders were condemned to be put to death Schurz had been most active in exciting the rebellion and was one of the first to receive this sentence But he was not destined to die by the bullets of Frederick William IV

The story of Schurz's career in 1848 and 1850 after the failure of his brave revolutionary movement—of his hair breadth escapes while fleeing from Prussia and of his return disguised, into the very heart of the kingdom to rescue one of his companions imprisoned there—matches the romantic tales of the middle ages and at the time the rumor of the chivalric deeds of the young hero rang through half of Europe And now when the Senator has again signalized his genius by his oration upon Charles Sumner—an oration which will be regarded hereafter as a historical event—it will be interesting to many to read this chapter of his early history

Carl Schurz was born at Liblar, near Cologne in the year 1829 and hence at the outbreak of the revolution of 1848 he was nineteen years of age He was then a scholar of marked attainments in the University of Bonn A republican by nature a vigorous writer and withal filled with youthful zeal he became one of the leaders in the movement serving it with his pen as an editor of a Liberal paper at Bonn and with his sword in defense of Rastadt—the principal and last stronghold of the German Republicans Upon the surrender of Rastadt he was one of the defenders who was thrown into prison by order of the King and sentenced to be shot But the brave young Republican active and sanguine while he possessed his freedom did not lose his courage or relax his energy even incarcerated between the dungeon walls of a guarded fort and he set to work without delay to devise means of escape During the night previous to the day on which he was to be put to death, he and his servant who had been imprisoned with him excavated a passage through the floor of their prison into the sewer of the town There they remained all night up to their waists in water In the morning they found their way to a man trap in one of the streets but there stood a sentinel, armed and watchful; for it was then known that two prisoners had escaped

Their only way of exit from their living tomb seemed to be cut off There they stood for hours weak and trembling, hoping that the sentinel would be withdrawn They could not sit down for the water was too deep and once one of them became so weary that he let fall a weapon that he had with him which splashing in the water attracted the guard's attention who thrust his bayonet several times into the sewer passing it within a few inches of their bodies At last there occurred a fortunate disturbance a short distance from the trap and the watchman for a moment forsook his post This was their one only opportunity and they profited by it without delay They had hardly time to leap from the sewer and to throw themselves into a ditch near by when the guard returned They lay in the ditch motionless the rest of the day, and at nightfall they crawled away and fled across the fields Faint and hungry they ventured to approach the house of a farmer and to trust to his compassion to afford them food and shelter He permitted them to hide in the loft of his barn but even there they were forbidden the boon of sleep for no sooner were they concealed that a party of soldiers took possession of the lower part of the barn preparatory to spending the night in revelry They did not dare to sleep lest they should move or snore and thus attract the attention of those below Each kept the other awake until it was nearly morning when—the revelers having fallen into a heavy slumber—they stole forth and renewed their flight During the next day and for many succeeding days they concealed themselves traveling only by night and when they became hungry beyond endurance trusting to the sympathy of the more humble of the peasants to give them food In this way they proceeded until they passed the boundary of Prussia and entered Switzerland

Worn out by this fearful journey Schurz fell ill and for several months he lay prostrate with a fever Upon his recovery he learned that one of his associates in the Revolution Gottfried Kinkel who like himself had been condemned to death had had his sentence commuted to twenty years imprisonment in the State Prison at Spandau Kinkel had been a Professor at the University of Bonn They were associated together as editors of a liberal paper published at Bonn and were bosom friends The young hero had saved his own life after the narrowest escape and he had the world before him But he was possessed of too generous a heart and too chivalrous a nature selfishly to enjoy his own freedom without making an effort to rescue his friend from prison and to this end he bent all his energies He spent several months at Zurich and Cologne arranging his plans and putting himself in communication with Kinkel's relatives and at length he set out upon his knight errand

Spandau was a fortified town a few miles from Berlin surrounded by a high wall having eight guarded gates and was the stronghold in which State prisoners were confined Upon his arrival there disguised he obtained through his friends relatives the [illegible] of the fort and made the acquaintance of the officers in charge passing himself off of course as being friendly to the throne Kinkel's friends were wealthy and supplied Schurz plentifully with funds His plan was to bribe a guard within the fort and a sentinel at one of the outer gates He spent weeks in studying them before venturing to make his proposition knowing that if they did not like the offer and betrayed him all would be lost The bargain was finally concluded, and he communicated his plans to Kinkel Still he proceeded with the greatest caution knowing that his venture was fraught with the utmost risks and being resolved to leave no stone unturned to insure success He could not be certain that the guard whom he intrusted with his secret would not betray him at the last moment [illegible] he made it [illegible] condition of the bargain that they should receive the money in advance But this was contingent he could not avoid At length a propitious night arrived There was to be a grand ball within the fort and Schurz was invited to attend He therefore fixed upon this night for the escape trusting that in the bustle and confusion of the ball their actions would not be noticed and he did not omit to improve every chance by drugging the liquors which the officers would use

When the revelry was at its height by the connivance of the jailer whom he had bribed he liberated Kinkel from his cell when they made their way to the roof of the fort and descended to the ground by the means of a rope which had been provided The sentinel at the gate true to his word permitted them to pass without the wall where their friends were in waiting Fleet horses were in readiness and they set off immediately for Hamburg, which was the nearest port Relays had been provided along the route and they reached their destination without accident or adventure They lay concealed several days when securing a fishing schooner they embarked for Scotland It was then the month of March and their voyage was most perilous and painful Many a time upon the passage the rescued Kinkel wished that he could exchange their pitching and floundering schooner for Spandau's prison walls They reached Edinburgh however in course of time and went ashore weary forlorn and hungry having hardly tasted food since the night of their departure from the prison They made it their first business to seek an eating-house But here again they found themselves in trouble for they spoke only French and German and the waiter spoke but English The waiter stared at them, amazed at their forlorn appearance and they mute and helpless in turn looked imploringly at him At length conjecturing their wishes, the waiter disappeared and returned with soup—and upon which they fell Only the soup Schurz recognized ox but tail he could not comprehend However they were not inclined to tackle it at first and they promptly concluded to accept the soup upon its merits Stimulated by this dish they managed between them to think up two English words "beef steak" and "porter" and so obtained a meal that gave entire satisfaction

They then proceeded to London and for the two years following Schurz was engaged in London and Paris as a teacher and as a correspondent of the German press During this period an interesting circumstance occurred which might in this connection to be related When it became known that Kinkel's deliverance from prison had been effected through the bravery and address of his faithful friend young Schurz became a hero throughout western Europe his fame even reaching England Men marveled at his prowess and maidens painted him in their fancies as a fair knight errant brave and handsome as ever was celebrated in ancient tournament They pictured him as another Cœur de Lion or called to mind the story of Damon and Pythias At this time (1851) there was a maiden of sixteen in the city of Hamburg whose parents were preparing to set out with their daughter to attend the Great World's Exhibition in London, and the maiden's first thought when she learned that she was going to London was that she might there see the young hero, Carl Schurz Her wish was realized and the sequel to this story is that the maid of Hamburg is the Senator's wife

Schurz removed to America in 1852 He resided first in Philadelphia where he engaged in legal historical and political studies He afterward made a short visit to Europe and then settled at Madison Wisconsin He became known as a German orator in the Presidential campaign of 1856 and for several years thereafter he practiced law, and engaged as a lyceum lecturer in English In 1860 he exercised great influence as a member of the Republican National Convention, and during the canvass that followed he made speeches both in English and German After Lincoln's administration he was appointed Minister to Spain but was relieved shortly after at his own request, in order that he might take part in our civil war where he served as Brigadier General of volunteers distinguishing himself at the second battle of Bull Run Having removed to Missouri he was elected in 1869 to the Senate of the United States

Schurz's career in the Senate is well known to the whole country He has distinguished himself by his oratory by his masterly handling of the more important questions of political economy and of international law by his independence and courage and withal by his noble support of Charles Sumner which all remember and in which he showed that same character of loyal friendship which in those early days I have described made him famous as the deliverer of Gottfried Kinkel from the hands of the Prussian King

GENERAL NOTES

"What is heaven's best gift to man?" asked a young lady the other night, smiling sweetly on a pleasant looking clerk "A boss" replied the young man with great prudence

A young wife once cured her husband of a disposition to absent himself from home at nights by providing him with an excellent dinner and saying to him "George, if you find a sweeter spot than our home describe it to me and I will rival it if I die in the attempt" A kiss and a few tears completed the victory

Dr Brown Sequard says the Boston Transcript has been deeply afflicted of late His two most intimate friends in the country—Agassiz and Sumner—have died and now his beloved wife has also died, leaving an infant daughter a week old

Virginia has a Washburne that wants to go to Congress and the Richmond Enquirer man thinks no well regulated State should be without one

From the counties marked * the returns are complete

Independents in SMALL CAPS, Republicans in italics and Democrats in Roman

Our returns from Jackson and Josephine counties are official In Baker two precincts remain to be heard from A dispatch to the OREGONIAN says "The two precincts not yet heard from will increase the Democratic majorities"

THE INDEPENDENT PARTY IN ILLINOIS.

Mr A C Hesing and General Lieb prominent German editors and politicians of Chicago held a conference in that city on Saturday with several editors of influential Democratic journals of the State, when the practicability of reorganizing the Democratic party was discussed Mr Hesing advocated a reorganization of the party because he believed it was the only one which could keep down the puritanical element and guarantee the peculiar freedom the Germans demand He had no faith in an Independent party, and promised if the Democratic party were placed upon its feet again to give it all the German votes feeling confident that it would carry the State in the next general election by 35 000 majority Some of the editors favored the proposition and others did not Some of them expressed the opinion that any attempt to reorganize the Democracy would only help the Republican party by preventing the union of all the elements of the opposition They finally decided to await the action of the Independent Convention to be held at Springfield, June 10th

SUCCESSFUL SINGERS —The Jubilee Singers did great things in England Besides the $50 000 they gained there $2 000 were contributed from one source and another to furnish dormitories for forty students and over $1 000 for a library Mr Gladstone, Dean Stanley Mr Spurgeon, and others also made presents of books The Quakers subscribed $1 100 for a set of philosophical instruments and the town of Hull presented a portrait of Wilberforce to be placed in Nashville University Mr Crossley the great carpet manufacturer, is to carpet the rooms

TICHBORNIANA —By the preamble of the bill which was read the first time in the House of Lords on May 19 it appears that the expenses of the litigation occasioned by the claimant's proceedings and payable by the present Baronet or in the event of his death during minority by the family out of the estates have amounted already to nearly £92 000 These are exclusive of the expenses of the prosecution for perjury which have to be borne by the country

A SAD ACCIDENT —A dispatch from Detroit, Mich, June [illegible] says three girls yesterday started out in a row boat on Reeder's Creek in the west part of this city The boat commenced leaking and the girls jumped overboard The water was deep and the girls sank into the mud and were unable to extricate themselves They never rose until all were drowned, as also a boy 19 years old who went to assist them and shared their fate The boy and one of the girls were children of John Hohensey and two of the girls were daughters of John Wolf

SATURDAY MORNING JUNE 13 1874

THE CITY ELECTION

Yesterday morning were published the nominations made by the Nominating Committee on Thursday evening for members of the Council. Those nominations were for the First Ward Capt Geo H Flanders for the Second Ward John Catlin Esq and for the Third Ward, Charles Hodge Esq. On yesterday Capt Flanders sent the Committee a note saying the Civil Service Rules prohibited him from accepting the office, he being U S Inspector of steamboat hulls and Mr Hodge notified the committee that for business reasons he was compelled to decline the nomination. So it became necessary for the committee to fill the places thus vacated on the ticket which they did by naming Mr R R Thompson in place of Capt Flanders, and Mr Elijah Corbett in place of Mr Hodge. The official announcement of these nominations will be found in another column of this paper.

All the gentlemen named are of unblemished character, of fine standing as business men, and large taxpayers in the city. Consequently they can be relied upon, if elected to do whatever is in their power to reduce the expenses of the city government to the lowest possible standard. They are all persons who possess sufficient courage to vote "No," on any proposition to take money out of the Treasury for purposes not warranted by the charter no matter for whose benefit such proposition may be brought forward. Recent events show how necessary this qualification is to an economical administration of the affairs of the city.

In the First Ward the hardshell faction of the Republicans have nominated S Foster, Esq in the Second Geo A Steel and in the Third endorsed Wm Wadhams, whose nomination by a number of citizens was published Thursday.

We are not advised whether we shall have a hardshell Democratic ticket in the field or not. If one should be brought out, we only hope it may be composed of as eligible candidates as those already named. In such case we shall have a respectable Council, let the election go as it may.

'TOTHER FELLOW'S OX

Ordinarily the individual who has just been set up in business through the generous assistance of some friend, does not take the most kindly to the idea of the same friend taxing his generosity to the extent of setting up another person in exactly the same business at the opposite corner of the street. So soon as this thing of helping poor people out of trouble and setting impecunious people on their financial pins is pushed to the extent of helping B to compete with A who has but fairly got into running trim under the wing of the same sort of benefaction, it becomes radically wrong and merits vigorous opposition—in fact, it is an outrage. This is a logical sequence upon the principle that the case is very different when it is the other fellow's ox that is gored.

Reasoning from the premises afforded in this peculiarly human view of the case, the conclusion would be naturally reached that in those States which have been developed and built up by railway subsidies, there must spring up a very lively sense of the inherent wrong of squandering any more of the people's money in the construction of railways. In fact, it was always wrong to devote the common treasure to foster enterprises of a private or quasi private character, and had the wrongfulness of it been perceived in time to prevent the contribution of millions from the public purse to aid in building roads for those States where the evil is now so well understood and appreciated, the hue and cry would have been raised at once, but it was not discovered soon enough. The roads are built, and there is nothing left for the virtuous beneficiaries of the public plunder to do but to make the most of their advantages, and howl all the louder against the further use of the public funds for such nefarious purposes. One cannot help admiring the intense indignation with which those States that are gridironed all over with railways built partly or wholly upon subsidies from the General and local Governments, declaim against the diversion of the public moneys and lands to the purpose of assisting these enterprises. It is idle to attempt to reason with them, to show them how they have become great and prosperous communities at the expense of the whole country, and that it would be but simple justice for the Government to help other sections a little now. It is idle to talk to them thus, for they are not open to the consideration of any argument that proceeds upon such low ground as is to talk of the equal distribution of subsidies, when the very principle of subsidies has suddenly been discovered to be radically wrong. The sentiments and consciences of these people are not merchantable commodities to be bartered away in compromises and equitable adjustments. They are acting and talking from principle and—it's 'tother fellow's ox. The Oregon bull must by no means be permitted to gore the California ox with its Portland Dalles and Salt Lake horn, and as for the Illinois-Missouri Iowa Nebraska-Kansas calf the idea of its sleek hide and graceful flanks being torn by the Duluth and Puget Sound beast is not to be thought of for a moment.

So California, fattened and oppressed by roads built on $28,000,000 of Government aid—$27 855 080 to be exact—and enjoying all the incalculable benefits of direct and speedy communication with the East is bitterly virtuous in her opposition to subsidies, and the so-called Western States which lie about the eastern terminus of the trans continental road with an open way to the Pacific for the construction of which the common treasury—common to little Oregon as well as big Illinois—made another trifling contribution of $27 2[illegible] 12 get up conventions and resolve themselves into ecstasies of virtuous indignation over the possibility of any further assistance by the Government to build railways. But these last named people have discovered a distinction in this subsidy question which had not been observed before. This new point is that it is only railway and steamship subsidies that are wrong while in the case of Canal subsidies the case is entirely different. This latter class of subsidies is not only unobjectionable but positively desirable. Indeed it is one of the urgent and pressing demands of the hour and the highest statesmanship [illegible] the Government to aid in improving the navigation of our lakes and rivers! Such is the resolution of a numerous and enthusiastic anti railway subsidy convention that has just adjourned in Illinois. The improvement of the navigable qualities of lakes and rivers, for our convenience and profit with Government money is liable to none of the insuperable objections that can be urged against any other form of subsidy, because—it is the other fellow's ox.

Next Tuesday is the time appointed for the Pioneer Reunion at Aurora under the auspices of the Pioneer Association. The programme promises an exceedingly interesting entertainment. The gentlemen who are announced for addresses &c are happily adapted to make the occasion a pleasant one as they are not only among the foremost men of the State but have been here from the Pioneer days and are familiar with every step in the growth of Oregon from its early settlement. This is an occasion for old Oregonians to go over together the reminiscences of their pioneer days and feel again the pleasures and [illegible] of frontier life. The navigation companies and railway companies have generously agreed to pass persons over their lines to and from the Reunion at half the regular rates and the O & C R R will have a special train in the afternoon to bring home guests living north of Aurora.

Rochefort publishes in the New York Herald of May 31st a long manifesto in French, which purports to give an accurate history of France during and since the Commune. The document occupies a full page of the Herald and a translation takes up another page. The noted refugee has kept quiet since his arrival in the United States. In his journey from San Francisco to New York he passed by Chicago without so much as stopping to say how d'ye do. And the Tribune of that city thus reproves him: A French edition of George Francis Train can scarcely furnish desirable companionship. And a man making almost the tour of the world who can pass through Chicago without stopping over must be of small intellectual caliber.

The New York Sun appears to have gone too fast in its charge of bribery against the Congressional Committee which has under consideration Luttrell's demand for an investigation of the affairs of the Central Pacific Contract and Finance Company. The Committee are on the war path. This is not the first time the Sun has got into trouble through its reckless attacks upon public men but somehow it always manages to escape without suffering very great damages. If that Congressional Committee will only set it deep on the Sun it will serve humanity in general and the cause of decent journalism in particular.

The official statement of the Public Debt for May shows a decrease of the debt during the month of $4 456 858 92. The total decrease since June 30, 1873, eleven months has been $2 [illegible] 27[illegible]. The entire less $1[illegible] 186 68[illegible] cash in the Treasury is $2 1[illegible] 268, 438 10. Of this sum, $1 213,967,900 bears coin interest at 6 per cent. $510 279 000 bears coin interest at 5 per cent, $678 000 bears currency interest at 4 per cent, $14 000 000 bears currency interest at 3 per cent and $[illegible] 127 49 bears no interest.

"In obedience to a manifest public sentiment and at the request of many men of all parties," a call for a Reform State Convention has been issued by a number of members of the Michigan Legislature. It will meet at Lansing on August 9th to "take steps as may be deemed advisable to secure the organization of a party on a basis of live issues and for the restoration of purity and statesmanship to the high places in our State and National Government."

On the 25th ult Senator Stewart of Nevada introduced into the Senate a resolution proposing a Sixteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States as follows:

ART 16. If any State shall fail to maintain a common school system under which all persons between the ages of five and eighteen years not incapacitated for the same shall receive free of charge such elementary education as Congress may prescribe the Congress shall have power to establish therein such a system and cause the same to be maintained at the expense of such State.

LECTURE,

By

REV AUGUSTA J CHAPIN

On

Wednesday Evening, June 17th,

At

MASONIC HALL.

THIS DISTINGUISHED LADY WHOSE NAME heads this notice has consented to appear before the public in the capacity she has so ably filled East and West [illegible] LECTURER of the ripest culture and scholarship possessing in a rare degree those qualities of head and heart which attract all hearers. Miss Chapin has never failed to win encomiums and [illegible] with her every audience she addresses. Her subject on Wednesday evening will be a living topic of the day

"WOMAN'S SPHERE AND WORK."

The subject we do not hesitate to say will receive at Miss Chapin's hands a calm logical yet enthusiastic treatment and give at once the result of her own admirable experience as teacher minister author and lecturer and that of many of the ablest thinkers of the day who are her personal friends. An opportunity is given us of unusual order from a REPRESENTATIVE WOMAN to learn the representative views upon the great theme presented.

Wednesday Evening, June 17, at 8 o'clock.

CIRCUS PERFORMERS IN COURT —The irrepressible circus manager John Wilson is again at litigation From a San Francisco exchange we learn that he has commenced suit in the 4th District Court against R H Dockrill to recover $30,000 damages for breach of contract On the 19th of May Wilson hired Dockrill and his wife (circus performers) together with the use of their five horses for the spring and summer traveling season in California, at $250 per week They agreed to perform evenings and at matinees, and Wilson agreed to pay their expenses, which ran up to $2,500, and which Wilson paid The Dockrills performed at the Wilson Amphitheater in this city until May 27th and the next day accompanied the Wilson circus troop to Oakland where they performed two evenings and a matinee Dockrill and his wife then returned to this city with their five horses, and refused to carry out their agreement Wilson also avers that his wagons, tents, minor performers and 40 horses are a daily expense to him of $500, and the advertising sheets already printed, with the name of Dockrill and his wife upon them have cost him $1,000 By reason of this breach of contract Wilson claims to have sustained damages to the amount of $30,000, and suit is brought to recover that amount

OLD ENGINES —Few persons are aware that the engine now used on the steam tug Astoria was employed years ago in driving the machinery connected with the old steamer Constitution, which formerly plied between Sound ports and San Francisco There is at present a gentleman in Portland who was engineer on the Constitution in 1859, and has a very vivid recollection of handling the throttle-valve of this engine Notwithstanding this engine has been used for many years and rendered an immense amount of effective service, it is comparatively as good as new, and will last for a long time to come should no accident occur It has already outlasted two boilers, and with care will probably "use up" the one belonging to the tug, which has just been overhauled There were two engines used on the Constitution. The consort of the one employed on the Astoria is now rendering equally effective service on the Eastport which runs between Coos Bay and San Francisco Long since has the Constitution been condemned, and her old hulk gone to pieces, but these engines have survived the general wreck of the vessel, which they have so long driven against the winds and waves.

A DANGEROUS ANIMAL.—Persons who reside on the east side of the river, in the vicinity of Mount Tabor, inform us that that neighborhood is much annoyed by the presence of a large, savage bull which is allowed to roam at will. A few days ago a gentleman states that a couple of loose horses came running past his place, on the road leading from East Portland. These animals, after passing his house stopped to graze. On the following day when he went out in that direction, he was surprised to find one of the horses lying stark and cold on the ground, with one side fearfully lacerated and a portion of the intestines protruding The animal had evidently been gored to death by this ferocious bull, which is known to frequent that vicinity A short time since two boys attempted to drive this animal, but the beast turned on them in such a vicious manner that they were compelled to put whip and spur to their horses to escape, which they did by a "scratch," the bull hotly pursuing them for some distance The owner of this vicious animal is not known, but such a dangerous brute ought to be kept securely confined or else shot down on sight

SAILED HENCE.—The steamship John L. Stephens sailed hence for San Francisco last evening at 5 o clock, carrying away the following passengers James Barly, Patrick Kinney J [illegible] D N Allen, F F Docker J F [illegible] N N Bissett E Williams, Dr Geo E Cooper, wife and child, L Blum T Hor[illegible] P B Clark John Gleason R. RETURNED —Mr. Millard of the firm of Millard & VanSchuyver, arrived yesterday in the [illegible] from a trip to the Sandwich Islands He was a passenger on the barkentine Jane A Falkenburg, which sailed hence nearly six weeks ago Mr Millard says he enjoyed the trip very much and his embrowned and [illegible] appearance fully corroborates his [illegible] of the matter He remained at the Islands 18 days, which gave him ample opportunity to see the town and to explore to his heart's content the surrounding country Our old friend, Capt N L Rogers who ran on the [illegible] coast so long, and had at various times the command of the Geo S Wright, Gussie Telfair and California, returned on the bark Garibaldi from Hongkong He has been absent a number of months

BARK GARIBALDI —The bark Garibaldi in command of Capt Noyes, arrived here yesterday, in tow of the tug Merrimac, from Astoria This vessel comes directly from Hongkong [illegible] 470 passengers and considerable freight. Fifty six days were required to accomplish the passage from Hongkong to the mouth of the Columbia Head winds were encountered most of the way, which accounts [illegible] passage The vessel is lying at [illegible] wharf Yesterday afternoon the [illegible] were allowed to debark after the [illegible], and their persons and baggage [illegible] to the inspection of the Custom House officials

TEMPERANCE MEETING —The Union Temperance meeting to be held in the Taylor street M. E. Church to-morrow (Sabbath) evening will be addressed by Rev Bishop D Edwards D D of the U B I C Church and the Rev A. H. Bradford recently arrived from the East to fill the pulpit of the First Congregational Church in this city during the absence of its pastor We bespeak a crowded house and advise all to be prompt in attendance Exercises will begin at 7:30 Rev Bishop D Edwards, D D, of the U B I C Church will preach in the Taylor street M E Church to-morrow (Sabbath) morning at 11 o clock The public are cordially invited

THE MAXIMUM AND MINIMUM THERMOMETER —Mr. L. E. Evans in charge of the United States Signal office in this city recently [illegible] maximum and minimum instrument by the steamer John L Stephens and will hereafter be enabled to report the maximum and minimum temperatures of our changeable climate

A CHANCE FOR BARGAINS —O Kilbourn Esq., auctioneer will officiate at the store near the corner of Yamhill and First streets to-day offering a large lot of goods to the best bidder and will doubtless give the public [illegible] to secure some good bargains Read his advertisement.

FUNERAL.—The funeral of George Hayden the unfortunate lad who was drowned above the city on Wednesday afternoon will take place this morning at 10 o clock from the corner of Market and Third streets

OUR THANKS.—Captain Brown of the bark Jane A Falkenburg, has our thanks for files of late Honolulu papers

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS

Our reporter was out last evening to report the mass meetings called by the Republican City Committee to nominate candidates for Councilmen from the three wards. His first visit was to Armory Hall the usual voting place for the First Ward Noticing that the hour for which the meeting was called had arrived and passed and the hall still remained dark and tenantless inquiry of a gentleman sitting in front of the building elicited the reply that the "mass meeting" was at that time in session in the back room Our reporter gently pushed open the closed door and discovered the masses seated around on the benches discussing some question the drift of which could not be caught Reporter saw no less than eight men and not more than ten who composed the masses present He asked [illegible] the [illegible] of the meeting was a secret one and was told that he should be given the result in a little while Thinking it a very unusual "mass meeting" he waited around until the masses came out and was informed that Mr Spaulding had acted as Chairman and Mr McIntosh as Secretary that John R Foster had been nominated for Councilman from the First Ward, and that Geo W [illegible] James D C McK[illegible] and Capt J H [illegible] had been appointed a Ward Committee and that was all As a mass meeting the affair was a strangely conducted and very ridiculous thing not more than ten persons being present

SECOND WARD

The attendance at the voting place (Court House) in the Second Ward was a trifle in advance of that in the First Eight o clock was the hour appointed for the polls to open A few moments after that time, our reporter introduced his [illegible] countenance in the County Court room At the first glance of our eagle optic the full glare of the gas chandeliers so dazzled us that we could but indistinctly discern the multitudinous sea of upturned countenances turned to greet our debut By degrees our sight grew clearer and betwixt the gloaming and the mingled rays of the aforesaid gas jets, we managed to "count noses" There were visible just fifteen Anxiously we sharpened the point of our reportorial pencil and awaited developments A silence as painful as it was profound, settled like a cloud of mosquitoes over the vast assemblage and even had that universal pin been dropped, it would have startled all present At length some one moved that the Convention (a huge "joke") come to order which [illegible] Next the name of Mr C L DuBois was placed in nomination for Chairman and no one demurred whereupon Charles took the Chair, and amidst a chilling silence called the meeting to order Nominations being next in order the names of Geo A Steel and William Dellinger were proposed; Tellers were then appointed and balloting proceeded Meantime the noses began to augment and ere the balloting was half through our reporter counted 20 present A "short horse was soon curried," and 20 ballots were quickly gathered in Just before Mr Braten, one of the tellers began to call off the names the Chairman announced that the polls would remain open for a few minutes. Mr R Holman remonstrated against such unwarranted usurpation of power and moved that the polls be declared closed Here followed a little scene Chairman is inexorable; Holman insists upon his point, Chairman unmoved Holman appealed from the decision of the Chair Chairman says "it's out of order" and refused to put the question motion at length put and Holman goes to the wall Braten moves that the polls be kept open five minutes Congle amends by inserting 15; vote put and Congle's amendment carried Time wore on and soon the noses increased to 30 when the polls were declared closed On counting the ballots the vote stood Geo A. Steel 15 Dellinger 14 Blank 1 The Chairman proclaimed in a falsetto tone that "Steel was the choice of this Convention" A vigorous grasping of old tiles followed and the huge joke was at an end

THIRD WARD

The attendance at this ward was much larger than at either of the other two though far less than on similar occasions in the past Mr. William Wadhams name was placed in nomination, and that gentleman was almost unanimously declared the choice of the voters of that ward

TO OPEN —Messrs Briggs & Hart will open the "Music Hall" under Oro Fino Theater, this evening The establishment has been fitted up in fine style and the bar will be supplied with the best liquors wines and cigars

BUILDING BURNED —Through private sources we learn that a building at Newton, a few miles distant from Hillsboro, was entirely consumed on Thursday evening We are unable to learn any particulars

TEMPERANCE MEETING — The temperance meeting to be held this evening at the Taylor Street M E Church will be conducted by the ladies connected with the Temperance League.

PEOPLE'S NOMINATIONS

PORTLAND June 12, 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Please give place to the announcement that the People's City Nominating Committee held a meeting at 1 o'clock to-day to nominate candidates for Councilmen in the First and Third Wards in place of George H Flanders and Charles Hodge, who declined to accept The Committee nominated in their stead R R Thompson and Elijah Corbett The whole ticket is now as follows First Ward R R Thompson Second Ward, John Catlin, Third Ward, Elijah Corbett

PH C SCHUYLER
Secretary of Committee

AMUSEMENTS.

Almost every seat in the theater besides a number in the aisles were filled last evening, The occasion was the testimonial benefit to Mrs Fanny Morgan Phelps It has been a long time since Oro Fino theater was so densely packed, and the appearance of so many in the building must have been exceedingly gratifying to the beneficiary The programme consisted of two sparkling comedies, which were presented with the full strength of the company, who acquitted themselves very well indeed The interlude comprised songs by Miss Morgan and selections by the Portland Brass Band—the whole forming a most enjoyable performance Much is due the gentlemen who volunteered to make the affair so successful We congratulate Mrs Phelps and hope in future the attendance will be equally as good as that last night Cinderilla is the attraction for the matinee This beautiful play will be presented with all the effects In the evening an excellent programme will be offered

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Mrs Rumsey will be found at her studio as per card elsewhere

Once more Messrs Bradley Marsh & Co take occasion to make known to the citizens of Portland, particularly the ladies what they have lately added to their stock They give the fullest explanation as the advertising space occupied will attest Among the latest importations announced are 5000 yards of [illegible] French flowers and millinery goods, and a new [illegible] the Dolly Varden cap; these are the most attractive [illegible] recently laid in They receive fresh [illegible] per each arrival—the last being only twenty days out from London It is truly remarkable—the wonderful change that has taken place at this popular house Everything is now [illegible] attractive Our space will not permit further mention [illegible] ladies will call [illegible] and observe the new styles

PICNICS

To-day the pupils teachers and friends connected with the First Presbyterian Sunday School will hold their picnic at the grounds [illegible] Aurora [illegible] invitation is extended to the public

The Congregational and Baptist Sunday Schools start in the morning [illegible] City to-day at 9 o'clock this morning, per steamer E. N. Cooke from the O S N Co's wharf The ground selected is on this side of the river, giving an opportunity to visit the iron works and the lake in the vicinity

A. A. Reviere, importer and dealer in Human Hair and practical Wig Maker and Hair Worker, has just returned from Europe with the finest and largest stock of Human Hair ever brought to this market and is now ready to dispose of it at very low prices at his new store, corner of Third and Alder streets, directly opposite the Postoffice Ladies Hair Dressing in the latest and most becoming style Country orders promptly attended to

Steadily, but without any flourish of trumpets Udolpho Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps made its way to the first place among the Tonics of the present day that place it now occupies and will continue to [illegible] as long as dyspepsia, general debility, kidney disease and nervous affection continue to [illegible] mankind [illegible]

The Amateur of Vancouver challenge the Crescents of this city The latter have declined

There will be a children's meeting and floral concert at Hall street M E Church at 3 o clock Sunday afternoon

The Washington Guard will give a farewell party at the Armory Hall on the 18th inst —they are about to change their quarters you know

Handkerchief stands a late importation from Paris have become very fashionable in the East They are said to be very pretty and convenient

There are men now [illegible] playing [illegible] who will wonder what made their teeth chatter as they go shivering around in their nankeen pants next winter

Professor Risley the well known showman (familiar to Californians as the introducer of the Japanese jugglers and gymnasts) died in Philadelphia on the 25th of May

Among the arrivals at Yosemite valley a few days ago was Prof O S Fowler of Boston than whom no man in America is better known in the phrenological world

The [illegible] of the 6th says The Warm Springs braves—clean Indians—have gone to San Jose and from there will go to Sacramento where they will exhibit on Saturday From Sacramento they will proceed on their journey East

When the boys in Carson City think a fellow is drinking too heavily they kill a snake stuff the skin and put it between the sheets of his couch It is said to work like a charm If the plan meets with such success there it ought to be introduced in Portland

A San Francisco paper of the 8th says Professor Wythe delivered the introductory lecture of the course of the Medical College of the Pacific last evening in Calvary Church. The attendance was not large and was made up mostly of the students and their friends, and the Professors of the College

The handkerchief flirtation has become common and the "whip flirtation" is new and way up Pink ribbon tied on the whip while out driving, means "waiting for a beau" red, "open for engagements" blue "married" white "a bride" brown "a crusher" pink and blue "engaged to please mamma"

Green hands at law making are very apt to enact oppressive measures in their enthusiasm. In Denver they fine a man $100 for bringing Limburger cheese into the city Here in free Portland there is no punishment except for the consumer he is compelled to sleep alone for a week, and the old ladies and servants balloa "scat" when they go into the room where he is sitting

An exchange says "Several of our local poets have been laboring over poems of the Sheridan's Ride order for the fellow who rode down the valley ahead of the Mill river flood and gave the alarm which it seems but few heeded The Eastern papers have been changing the name and the style of the hero so often that the jingle has been nearly if not quite ruined And now comes the news that he was a phantom—that he only existed in imagination

Orange peels are discovered to be very much inferior to green pea pods for all practical upsetting purposes Yesterday we saw a lady tread on one of the latter The effect was as sudden as it was stupendous She kicked with both feet as high as a ballet star, gave the peculiar shrill feminine scream sat down and said "Oh my" smoothed down her disordered attire looked around wildly, rose quickly shook herself to see if anything was loose gave a withering glance at the place where she had fallen and with all the spare blood she had in her face, went on with her shopping

SHIPPING NOTES.

The schooner Oregonian was towed to sea on Monday by the tug Merrimac

The Orient is now loading with lumber at Shoalwater Bay for San Francisco

Both the vessels—Perpetua and Architect—are loading with lumber at Cementville

The French bark Nouveau St Michael which left here last winter with a cargo of grain arrived at Queenstown on the 5th of May

The barkentine Jane A. Falkenburg, Captain Brown arrived at Astoria on Thursday, direct from the Sandwich Islands with a full cargo of tropical fruits The Falkenburg made the best trip on record being just 13 days from Honolulu to Astoria She will be up to-day

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES.

A GEM (?)

A precious stone lay unobserved,
Its worth could not be roughly guessed
No one gave the notice it deserved
Because it was not [illegible] dressed

A man in tattered garments clothed
With kindest heart within his breast
By ignorance and pride is loathed
Because he is not better dressed

Then gentlemen a warning take
By such examples here expressed
And hurry ere it be too late
To JOSEPH KOHN'S and get [illegible]

FASHION NOTES.

The Gossamer Waterproof is the name given to a recent invention which consists of a plain circular cloak with hood made of fine linen or twilled silk and thoroughly waterproof by a preparation of oil and thin liquid india rubber

Another style of polonaise suited to evening wear is made of very clear white organdie The body and entire front, which are cut in the princesse form are a mass of ruffs and insertions of fine needlework or Valenciennes lace the back of the skirt is moderately full and very gracefully draped with trails of tinted [illegible] and pale blue or pink rose ribbon

The tight fitting, rather loud style of polonaise or redingote of last year with its large pockets and deep wide cuffs has disappeared

The linen polonaise worn with a skirt of a [illegible] material has taken the place of the plain linen suits to a great extent for ordinary traveling and every day purposes What are called "tourist" outfits are mostly composed of [illegible] linen polonaise [illegible] back and skirt of striped cambric and a linen satchel strapped with leather

It is proposed to introduce this summer a novelty into American fashion in the form of the scabbard or sheath dresses—an exaggeration of the clinging style which are now in vogue

A pretty and long neglected fabric has reappeared this season, and makes up into pretty simple inexpensive dresses for the country and home wear This is English barege and in Quaker gray or the creamy white which many matrons will remember as furnishing a costume for the days of their girlhood, is exceedingly delicate and ladylike

The wreath chapeau is purely and simply a coronet [illegible] of foundation lace concealed by flowers kept upon the head by an elastic which passes under the hair This bonnet [illegible] in Paris and [illegible] this time there be [illegible] but one other that struggles with it in popularity

But there are rich costumes of black grenadine which also seem to be one mass of jet The bodies are trimmed [illegible] fashion with passementeries or white lace beaded with jet The aprons are trimmed row above row, with beaded lace or rich silk and jet fringe

Can storied urn or animated bust
Back to its mansion call the fleeting breath?
Can honor's voice provoke the silent dust
Or flattery soothe the dull cold ear of death?

Not exactly—but there can be no doubt that health comfort and happiness have frequently been known to follow smoking a good fragrant cigar History has recorded it poets have attested it in song and many expectant hearts demonstrate the truth of it by using the Arcadian Cigar sold only by W H Hart at the corner of First and Washington streets

Food and Digestion.

In dyspepsia the gastric juice which should dissolve the food is only formed in small quantities and whatever may be the feeling of emptiness and weakness in such cases the dyspeptic should eat very sparingly To remedy the evil the mucous membrane of the stomach which secretes and emits the gastric fluid should be stimulated and toned and the best in fact the only sure preparation for this purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters Not only does this admirable stomachic promote a sufficient and steady supply of the solvent which converts the food to the purposes of life but it also regulates the flow of bile controls the bowels and has a most invigorating effect upon the nerves The glow which the very first dose diffuses through the system is an earnest of the more permanent vitalizing effects which are produced by its persistent use It improves the appetite cheers the spirits and renders the body hardy and strong

SWAMP LAND TITLES

In the Supreme Court of the State of Oregon December Term 18[illegible]

Joseph Ga[illegible] [illegible] vs [illegible] Stott Appellant — Appeal from [illegible]

The Act of Congress of September [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] lands within her borders

The [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] further [illegible] of the title

[illegible] by the act of 1850 is a personal not a property trust [illegible]

The State [illegible] under the grant [illegible] by the General [illegible]

The [illegible] in the first [illegible] of the act [illegible] no way operates as a limitation upon the grant

The provision in the second section of the act of 1850 [illegible] to the time within which [illegible] to be made [illegible] The State lost no rights by not complying strictly therewith

This is a suit to quiet the title to section 12 township 2 south of range 4 west of the Willamette meridian the same being situate in Yamhill and Washington counties The complaint alleges that the defendant [illegible] in the possession of said lands that they are swamp and overflowed lands unfit for cultivation by reason of such swamp and overflow [illegible] that they were granted to the State of Oregon by virtue of the provisions of the swamp land grant made by Congress March 12 1860 and that the State has sold them to this plaintiff under the provisions of the State swamp land act, approved October 26 1870 The complaint further alleges that the defendant has set up a claim to said lands under a pretended pre-emption of the same made in September 1871 by virtue of the pre-emption laws of the United States and alleges that said land were not subject to pre-emption

To this complaint the defendant filed a general demurrer On the argument thereof in the court below the question was raised whether or not the title to "the swamp and overflowed land" passed to the State by virtue of the act of Congress of March 12 1860 The court below resolved this question in the affirmative and overruled the demurrer Upon leave granted the defendant filed an answer

The answer admits that the lands in controversy are 'swamp' lands and alleges that prior to August 28, 1871 the defendant made settlement thereon under the pre-emption laws of the United States that he duly made his declaratory statement at the proper land office that on March 4, 1872 he made proof of residence and cultivation and paid to the United States the lawful price of said lands that the same were at the time subject to pre-emption, that ever since said last date he has been entitled to a patent from the general government therefor that he is in equity the owner of the fee simple to said land and that he is in possession thereof And further answering he avers that there is now pending in the land department of the general government a contest between the State of Oregon and the defendant concerning the right to receive a patent for the lands described in the complaint that it has not been determined by the proper officers of said department who is entitled thereto that no patent or patent certificate has been issued to the State of Oregon that the title to said land has not been confirmed to the State of Oregon and that said land exceeds in value the sum of $2 000 The answer concludes with the prayer that the defendant's title be quieted and that the claim set up by the plaintiff be declared to be fraudulent and [illegible]

The plaintiff demurred to the first and second defenses set up in the answer for the reason that the matters therein averred constituted no answer in equity to the cause of suit set up in the complaint at the same time filing a motion to strike out the prayer of the answer for the reason that it asked such affirmative relief as could only be obtained by original suit. The motion was sustained, as was also the demurrer to the aforesaid defenses and to every part thereof except the averment setting forth the value of the land

The defendant refused to answer or plead further, and the court granted plaintiff the relief prayed for in the complaint and from the decree entered in accordance therewith the defendant appeals

[Then follows an exhaustive review of the decisions upon similar questions by the different courts of the Union, for which we have not sufficient space —Ed Oregonian]

McARTHUR, J

The only question pressed upon the attention of this Court in the argument of this cause was whether or not the Swamp Land Act of Congress, in itself, passed the title to the swamp and overflowed lands in Oregon to the State Gaston holds under the State Stott under the United States hence a correct solution of the question presented will be decisive of the controversy

By Act of Congress of March 12 1860 the provisions of the Act of September 28 1850 commonly designated as the "Swamp Land Act" were extended to the States of Oregon and Minnesota The language of the first section of the Act of 1860 is as follows That the provisions of the Act of Congress entitled an Act to enable the State of Arkansas and other States to reclaim the swamp lands within their limits approved September twenty-eight eighteen hundred and fifty be and the same are hereby extended to the States of Minnesota and Oregon, provided, that the grant hereby made shall not include any lands which the Government of the United States may have reserved sold or disposed of (in pursuance of any law heretofore enacted), prior to the confirmation of title to be made under the authority of said Act

The second section provides that selections be made from surveyed lands within two years from the adjournment of the Legislature at the next session after the passage of the Act and from lands thereafter to be surveyed within two years from such adjournment at the next session after notice by the Secretary of the Interior to the Governor of the completion and confirmation of the surveys

In order to ascertain the character of the grant and the effect of the proviso in the first section of the act of 1860, an inquiry into the original act the provisions of which are extended to Oregon becomes necessary The acts are in pari materia and must be construed together On September 28 1850 Congress passed an act to enable the State of Arkansas and other States to reclaim the 'Swamp lands' within their limits The first section of the act is as follows That to enable the State of Arkansas to construct the necessary levees and drains to reclaim the swamp and overflowed lands therein, those swamp and overflowed lands made unfit thereby for cultivation which shall remain unsold at the passage of this act, shall be and the same are hereby granted to the State The second section provides that the Secretary of the Interior shall make out accurate lists and plats of these lands, and transmit the same to the Governor of that State and, at his request shall issue patent therefor and on that patent the fee simple to those lands shall vest in the State of Arkansas subject to the disposal of the Legislature of that State Provided however that the proceeds of said lands, whether from sale or by direct appropriation in kind shall be applied, exclusively as far as necessary, to the purpose of reclaiming said lands by means of drains and levees The third section provides that if the greater part of all legal subdivisions of said lands shall be wet and unfit for cultivation the whole subdivision shall be included in the list The fourth and last section provides that the provision of the act shall extend [illegible] and its benefits be conferred upon each of the other States of the Union in which such swamp and overflowed lands may be situated [illegible] Statutes 519

On March [illegible] 1855 Congress passed an act bearing upon this subject which authorized the President of the United States to issue patents to a certain class of purchasers prior to issuing patents to the State [illegible] [illegible]

And on March [illegible] 1857 Congress passed an act [illegible] swamp and overflowed land [illegible] [illegible] the Arkansas act and [illegible] act of March [illegible] 1855 [illegible]

The acts of 1850 and 1855 [illegible] [illegible] of 1857 have been the subject of frequent investigation by the highest judicial tribunals of a number of the States [illegible] their provisions They have also received official construction in a former [illegible] of the General Land Office and [illegible] one of the [illegible] Attorney General of the United [illegible]

[illegible] of the Commissioner [illegible] As early as November 21 1850 Mr Commissioner Butterfield instructed the Surveyors General that the act of 1850 clearly and unequivocally granted to the several States such lands which from being swamp or subject to overflow, were unfit for cultivation

The second section of the act of 1850 made [illegible] of the Interior the executive officer [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Interior Hon A H H Stuart [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Attorney General Black [illegible] Hon Jacob Thompson the Secretary of the Interior held that [illegible] the State [illegible] the land from the day of its date After referring to a former opinion (1st Opinions of Atty Gen [illegible]) he said It is not necessary that patent should issue before the title vests in the State under the act of 1850 The act of Congress was itself a present grant wanting nothing but a definition of boundaries to make it perfect [illegible] that of [illegible] the Secretary of the Interior was directed to make out an accurate list of the lands [illegible] [illegible] But when a party is authorized [illegible] the patent itself, which is but the evidence of the title [illegible] further declared that the general description [illegible] [illegible] the limits of the State of Arkansas was definite enough for purposes of notice [illegible] Opinions of Atty Gen [illegible]

We refer to the instruction of Mr Commissioner Butterfield to the conclusion reached by Mr Secretary Stuart and to the opinion of Attorney General Black to show the accepted construction of the act of 1850 [illegible] [illegible] the general government [illegible] this construction must be borne in mind was given after the passage of the acts of 1855 and 1857 and has we believe until recently been uniformly acted upon by the Department of the Interior

[illegible] fourth section of the act of 1850 commonly called the Arkansas act the provisions and benefits thereof were extended to and conferred upon all other states of the Union in which such swamp and overflowed lands existed Illinois having large tracts of land of that character lying within its borders was [illegible] by the provisions of the act and became entitled to its benefits The Supreme Court in the case of Supervisors of Whiteside Co vs States [illegible] III [illegible] was called upon to pass upon the character of the grant The opinion is clear forcible and able As it presents a complete refutation to several positions taken by counsel for the appellant in the argument of the case in hand and as it expresses the views of this court we have no hesitancy in adopting so much thereof as bears upon the question of the character of the grant Mr Justice Breese in delivering the opinion of the Court after referring to the act of Congress and to the several acts of the General Assembly of Illinois in relation to swamp and overflowed lands said By the grant of those lands to the State a fee simple estate passed [illegible] [illegible] no condition The State became the absolute owner of the lands with power to dispose of them in such manner and for such purposes as to the State might seem most expedient The language of the act is in the first section, shall be, and the same are hereby granted to the State This is a full and perfect grant of an indefeasible estate In the next section a patent to evidence the title is required to be issued to the State, and on that patent the fee simple to these lands shall vest in the State Language cannot be used to express more clearly and in more comprehensive terms the intention of the granting power as to these lands They are granted unconditionally to the State to be at the uncontrolled disposal of its Legislature The proviso [illegible] second section does not limit or qualify the power of the Legislature over them and when proceeds in any manner It is at the utmost but the expression of a wish or a desire on the part of Congress that the proceeds of their sale should be expended in levees and drains with a view to their redemption It is not a condition of the grant that they shall be so expended for a discretion is left with the Legislature to expend them as far as necessary From the act itself no inference can be drawn that it was the desire of Congress to resume the grant if the lands were not appropriated to their drainage The grant was a political measure [illegible] which the States having vast bodies of swamp and overflowed lands within their borders unfit for cultivation productive of disease and yielding no revenues to the State had a deep and important interest while to the nation at large, the interest was comparatively trifling Congress, in view of the facts said to these States these lands are of no use to the nation take them we make you a perfect title to them drain them and reclaim them if you can we commit them and the whole subject to your Legislature—adopt the policy we recommend but take the lands

The learned Judge then proceeds to discuss the question of the trust raised by the law in relation to the application of the proceeds of the sales of swamp and overflowed lands He declares it to be a matter of municipal and not judicial concern over which the State has plenary and exclusive power In support of this principle he cites Cooper vs Roberts 18 Howe (U S) 173 In that case certain school sections were sold the sales were not for school purposes but the proceeds were placed in the general fund and the Court said The grant of these lands was to the State directly without limitation of its power though there is a sacred obligation imposed on its public faith We think it was competent for Michigan to sell the school reservations without the consent of Congress

Upon a careful review of all these cases we can reach no other conclusion than that the act of 1850 was a grant in presenti operating upon certain and known premises swamp and overflowed lands,' and investing in those States in the Union at the time of its passage a fee simple title thereto Indeed if there were no authorities touching this point the same conclusion must be reached solely upon principle for the grant being a legislative grant, proprio vigore passed to the grantee immediately all the estate which the grantor had in the subject matter of the grant except what is expressly excepted United States vs Fitzgerald [illegible] Peters [illegible] Wilkins United States 9 [illegible] 711 United States vs Brooks 10 How 442 [illegible] Pike 12 How [illegible] Indiana vs [illegible] [illegible] How [illegible] Collins vs Lord [illegible] The United States had a fee simple title to all the [illegible] swamp and overflowed lands at the time of the passage of the act of 1850 and [illegible] a fee simple passed to the States affected thereby No subsequent act of Congress could diminish the estate or clog it with new conditions or except from the operation of the grant any swamp and overflowed lands not originally excepted Generally title once perfected with is gone forever A fee simple estate passed to a grantee cannot be affected by subsequent [illegible] acts of the grantor Hence the acts of 1855 and 1857 cannot be regarded as affecting the estate or the title And the views here [illegible] abundantly fortified by the fact that there is an utter absence in all the acts [illegible] of words or reasonable implication by which the title of the State should be divested or the land revert to the General Government in any manner or by any method known to the law The question of the character of the grant is no longer an open one

The second section of the act of 1850 in pointing out the duty of the Secretary of the Interior is simply a matter of direction [illegible] [illegible] officer the patent provided [illegible] operates only by way of further assurance and the trust raised by the provisions a matter of legislative and not of judicial concern Hence the diversion of the proceeds of the sales of swamp and overflowed lands from the purposes expressed in the act of Congress to those of aiding in the construction of certain works of internal improvement provided for by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon [illegible] [illegible] to defeat the title of the State

The [illegible] of 1855 in no way affect the [illegible] [illegible] of the original act [illegible] did the [illegible] act of 1857 and the Congressional [illegible] by this last [illegible] prior to the issuing of patent the fee simple to the land remained in the General Government is a solecism unworthy [illegible] the attention of the Court

Having reached this conclusion we refer to the consideration of the act of March [illegible] by which the provisions of the act of 1850 were extended to Oregon [illegible] [illegible] and every condition [illegible] thereto [illegible] applicable to the act of 1850 unless [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the act of [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] the grant [illegible] review [illegible] [illegible] the act, viewed in the light of the authorities here [illegible] the Oregon [illegible] vested with [illegible] title to the swamp [illegible]

[illegible] lands [illegible] [illegible] immediately upon its passage The exception of any lands which the Government of the United States may have reserved sold or disposed of (in pursuance of any law heretofore enacted) prior to the confirmation of title to be made under the authority of the said act,' is repugnant to the purview of the act and cannot stand We cannot bring ourselves to believe that Congress intended to take away any part of the particular lands granted by the body of the act by the subsequent general words [illegible] The [illegible] [illegible] prior to the confirmation of title is dispelled by the addition of the words which follow them [illegible] under the authority of said act [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] 1850 [illegible] confirmation of title was [illegible] [illegible] the patent operating only by way of further assurance This proviso is in repugnance to the general purview of the [illegible] and the [illegible] in the third section of the act of 1850 [illegible] fee simple, upon patent taken together [illegible] the general purview of the [illegible] 1850 [illegible] conclusions [illegible] in relation to the act of 1850 are [illegible] applicable to the act of 1860

The appellant claims under the pre-emption act of 1841 [illegible] [illegible] Statutes [illegible]

It [illegible] that the lands [illegible] [illegible] the fact [illegible] legal or equitable rights [illegible] of the United States [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] State [illegible]

[illegible] March [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] that the State [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] within the two years prescribed by the second section of the act of 1860 We cannot give our assent to this position, because we are of opinion that the designation of the time within which the lands were to be selected was not intended as a limitation of the power of the selecting officer Any other view would be antagonistic to the character of the grant This provision in relation to time is directory and the State lost no rights by not complying strictly therewith

Upon a careful review of the whole case we are of opinion that the decree rendered by the Court below should be affirmed It is so ordered
